FARMER BURTON'S COUNTRY TALK

Who would be a Farmer? At last I managed to get back on the land and applied nitrogen fertiliser to the crops, to get it growing after a cold, damp winter. The land has to be dry enough not to get my tractor stuck and also to travel across without damaging the soil structure. I also like to wait until the soil starts warming up and the crop starts its spring growth so that it uses the fertiliser as it needs it. I had just finished when the heavy rain came last week, but hopefully it wasn't enough to wash it all away!

I have sold my wheat from last year's harvest for £102/t which is £20/t lower than last year and £60/t lower than the year before. I won't even think about the year before that, or I might start crying!! Pig farmers are in real difficulties, losing £10 on every pig sold, so please continue to buy British. Lamb trade is slightly better this week as seasonal Easter trade has helped.

Dairy milk prices continue to fall with one company offering as little as 18p/litre to the farmer. One family Jill knows in Norfolk had their farm sale today, selling 400 dairy cows as they lost £160,000 and couldn't take it anymore. They are fourth generation farmers and Mrs Barrell told us that it costs them 29p/l to produce milk and her best price was 21p/l. That's a loss of 8p/l, for starting at 4am and working until 9pm.

Preparing a cow for the auction.

We then have weeds, aphids, black grass, the weather, red tape, health and safety and now the Europe vote to contend with. Who would be a farmer? (Actually, I still enjoy it!)

CARDS FOR THE CHURCH

Thank you to Iris Brooker who has kindly made and given some more beautiful hand-made cards. These are in a box on the table near the meeting room and she has generously asked that donations may be made to the Church Fabric Fund.

Thoughts on a Wet Day in Easton. Wednesday 10th March

Oh, who would be in Easton
On such a rainy day,
With the swollen stream and muddy roads
And many are away.

I have to cross the A14
It's bucketing with rain
The swishing lorries, speeding cars,
It really is a pain

I have to play the keyboard,
The church is very cold.
My fingers are so frozen
They won't do what they're told.

But be of cheer,
The blackthorn's out
And really I don't mind.
The reason I love Easton is
The people are so kind!

EASTON PARISH COUNCIL

The Annual Parish Meeting is to be held on 31st March 2016, St Peter's Church at 8.00pm. Reports from all the village associations will be presented.

The Parish Meeting is an opportunity for any parishioner on the Electoral Roll for Easton to raise any matter of concern that relates to their local community. Matters may be raised at the meeting without prior notice.

It would be helpful to have notice of any matter to be raised but it is not essential. For any query, please contact the Clerk to the Parish Council (Anthea Beer – 01480 890332).

Copy deadline for the next newsletter will be Sunday 24th April 2016
